

From the President...

Happy New Year! I hope that you had a happy and healthy holiday season!

I sincerely thank you for your confidence in choosing me as the new president of this wonderful Society. I promise that I will do my best to further the many superb and admirable traditions of this organization.

Some of you may not know me well. Perhaps I should take this opportunity to introduce myself.

I have no formal training in art, but lots of training in biomedical research. I have a Ph.D. degree in neuropharmacology, worked at Alcon, a major eye drug company, for 22 years, and eventually became the Director of Glaucoma Research, leading a team of scientists to look for new drug treatments of glaucoma. After retiring from Alcon, I was recruited by the University of North Texas Health Science Center to help build a new College of Pharmacy by serving as the Founding Chair and Professor of one of the departments. I had a lot of fun teaching brilliant pharmacy and graduate students, as well as continuing my research in glaucoma. In January 2021, with my wife's arm-twisting, I retired from the school.

I joined the Society of Watercolor Artists about 10 years ago after visiting and being very impressed by a SWA exhibition. The Society has been very good to me. I learned a lot from the demo artists, jurors, and especially you. You have helped my growth in techniques, concepts, artistic appreciation, and motivation. Thus, I think it is only right that I should do my best to help the continued success of this Society.

Since I am relatively new to the artist circle, I am quite ignorant in many details of smooth running of an art society. Fortunately, we have a capable, experienced, and dedicated Board, whose members are enthusiastic, knowledgeable, and fun-loving. However, despite that, the Society still needs a lot of help from all of us. There are still many unfilled positions. Please consider seriously to participate – it is perfectly OK if you would like to grab a friend and share the not-too-burdensome responsibilities.

I look forward to seeing you and wish all a very prosperous and healthy 2022!

PAINTING of the MONTH

Don't forget to bring a painting to the next meeting to enter the 2022 Painting of the Month contest.

Paintings that win 1st Place in the monthly contests throughout this year become eligible for the year ending Painting of the Year contest.

Next Meeting:

Monday, January 24th at 7pm
(Artwork Critique with Ann Winchester at 6pm.)
UNT Health Science Center - Fort Worth, Tx.

Membership Info

In September we began meeting in person at the UNTHSC Everett Hall in our usual meeting lecture hall. Of course, masks are requested. Even though you will be greeted at the table by a masked member, it's nice to check in and get your ticket for one of our drawings of free art merchandise! Many thanks to Janet Southern for doing the shopping and engineering the drawings.

We are focusing on some of the available positions for SWA. Last month we shared the need for an Exhibition chair as well as a member who is willing to solicit for art merchandise to be used in our upcoming International Juried Exhibition. (These positions are still open!)

This month we are looking for some friendly folks who will man the check-in table and greet our members and visitors as they enter the meeting area. It's a simple job and one that only requires your time during the meeting itself. If you are interested, please contact Skeeter Murley @watercolorcommunications@gmail.com

International Juried Exhibition

The deadline to enter this year's International Juried Exhibition will be here before you know it.

The deadline will be at the end of March.

Keep an eye open for the announcement on how and when to sign up.

In the meantime – get busy painting!

Welcome to a New Year!

By Darla Bostick

Last year SWA celebrated our 40th birthday. Who knows what this coming year holds for each of us as artists, and for SWA? It is always with optimism that we approach a new beginning. It's always a time to reflect on the past year and our accomplishments, but even more important is the time to set some new goals.

Learn something new! We have a schedule of new demos for our members, thanks to the diligence of Shirley Nichols who has been wearing many hats for SWA. This month we will welcome fellow member, Laurin McCracken, to provide some information on marketing your art through social media.

Fellowship with other artists and develop friendships with folks who share the same interests! Martin Luther King Day in January always pushes our regular meeting back one week. On Monday, the 24th, we hope to see you at 7pm.

Get motivated...try adding an art workshop to your schedule! With the pandemic there are plenty of lessons online, but this year you should be able to participate in person. Laurin McCracken is scheduled as our juror for the International Exhibition later this spring. As such, you can watch for his workshop in April. Stephen Zhang will share his talent with us for a 3-day July workshop "Portraits That Capture."

Have a visit with the masters! The Kimbell Museum is showing a terrific collection of paintings and drawings by J.M.W. Turner entitled "Turner's Modern World." In 1789 at the age of 14 he began his art studies and "lived through a tumultuous period of global change, witnessing revolutions, the Napoleonic Wars, the violent expansion of Britain's empires, and the abolition of slavery in its colonies..." (from the museum leaflet). We encourage you to wander through the exhibit and enjoy his use of brushwork with the luminous colors he is so well known to use as he recorded his Impressions of new inventions and a changing world. The exhibition is available through 6 February. They have a marvelous booklet written to help kids notice and appreciate the paintings. It is perfect for pre-teens—perhaps this is the time to introduce your grandchild to fine art.

We look forward to seeing each of you at our meetings. Let's make this a great year!
